

TRABZON

GENERAL INFO

The congress is being held at the university, which is in a generally young neighbourhood, but it's also really close to the city centre. There are loads of cafes and restaurants within walking distance of the congress centre, and there's a big shopping mall where you can get everything you need, including food and shopping.

You can walk from the airport to the university grounds. You can get to the city centre from the airport by airport shuttles called Havaş, by taxi or by minibuses at the exit of the airport.

Public transport in the city is provided by buses or minibuses. Minibuses are a popular choice here. Just so you know, you'll need to have Turkish Lira with you to pay for your minibus travel. And the Trabzon Card, the transportation card required to use the municipal buses, can be obtained from electronic card sales and filling ATMs in the city.

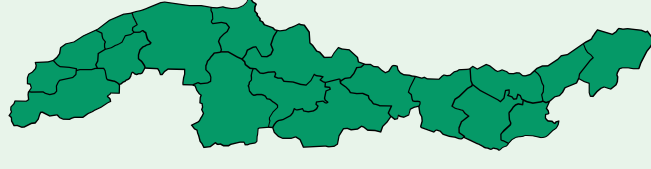

If you'd rather rent a car, you'll need to use the parking lots as the city centre is pretty small. But you don't have to use the parking lots outside the city centre, you can park for free in suitable places.

Local foods and treats: Mıhlama/kuymak (especially for breakfast), Pide (similar to pizza), Akçaabat köftesi (meatballs), Hamsi (anchovy), Lahana sarması (black cabbage rolls), Mısır ekmeği (corn bread), Karalahana çorbası (black cabbage soup), Hamsiköy sütlacı (rice pudding), Köme

You can easily explore the city centre on foot. In particular, Kahramanmaraş Street is the main street you can use when exploring the city. Outside the city centre there are many historical and natural sites, but we recommend that you visit them via local tours. Trabzon is also a rainy and mountainous city, so keep that in mind.

You can find all our recommendations for the city on the below.
