Creating a Replication Journal in Economics - Experiences

Donnerstag, 15. Mai 2025 09:00 (1 Stunde)

The ZBW - Leibniz Information Centre for Economics has created an Open Access replication journal in 2017 and has been managing it since. The Journal of Comments and Replications in Economics (JCRE) and its predecessor (IREE) have in total published 41 articles so far. While this is not a very large number, it is a non-negligible share of total comments and replications published in economics journals. This talk will describe the strategy, editorial roles, processes, policies and content of JCRE. It will highlight the journal's role within the discipline of economics and discuss options for the future.
